Excerpt: . days. God grant that no such awful and awakening providence, as the removal of a young person, so lately full of life, and health, and strength, should pass without some serious improvement; some earnest desire to have my loins girt, and my lamp burning. October 6th. My sister Pinekney died, having been generally delirious from Friday; and her speech so thickened, that though she attempted it in the intervals of reason, she never could make us understand what she wished to say to us. Miss Futerell and myself were constantly with her; but my heart is too full to write on this subject. Lord, .iio know est my groanings, and my sighings are not hid from thee; commiserate tby poor, sinful, suffering creature; and fill me with humility and resignation, under this exceedingly heavy stroke of thy Providence. 13th. Having had continued sickness of...
