

The Mind in the Making - The Relation of Intelligence to Social Reform

By James Harvey Robinson

Book Jungle. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Paperback. 140 pages. Dimensions: 9.1in. x 7.3in. x 0.3in. James Harvey Robinson (1863 - 1936) was an American Historian. In his writings he stressed the new history - the social, scientific, and intellectual progress of humanity rather than merely political happening. The Mind in the Making: The Relation of Intelligence to Social Reform was published in 1921. In the beginning of the book Robinson states his purpose as follows: As an old Stoic proverb has it, men are tormented by the opinions they have of things, rather than by the things themselves. This is eminently true of many of our worst problems to-day. We have available knowledge and ingenuity and material resources to make a far fairer world than that in which we find ourselves, but various obstacles prevent our intelligently availing ourselves of them. The object of this book is to substantiate this proposition, to exhibit with entire frankness the tremendous difficulties that stand in the way of such a beneficent change of mind, and to point out as clearly as may be some of the measures to be taken in order to overcome them. He goes on to say: I come back, then,...
